JUNIOR SOFTWARE DEVELOPER | RYANCURTISCLEMENTS.GITHUB.IO

OBJECTIVE

After an inside glimpse at the tech industry, I'm hungry for a role where I can participate in building infrastructure for the public good. Currently, I'm looking for a position where my newfound programming skills can complement the strong collaborative skills I've already refined.

EXPERIENCE

MARKETING AND PROMOTIONS LEAD • WAG! • 09/17 – 06/18

I entered Wag! looking to obtain the position of Customer Service Representative. During my initial training, I was identified as an exceptional candidate and transferred to Wag!'s promotions team, where I performed exemplary work and was promoted to the position of Team Lead in March of 2018. As Team Lead, I was responsible for assigning tasks, troubleshooting elevated issues, and performing quality assurance to ensure that our team was giving satisfactory responses.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR • GRASSROOTS CAMPAIGNS • 03/16 – 09/17

At Grassroots Campaigns, I went from canvasser to field manager to director by August of 2016. As a director, I worked in conjunction with my colleagues to hire and maintain a staff of 10-25 canvassers and coordinate campaigns raising hundreds of thousands of dollars for various civil rights organizations.

EDUCATION

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLETION • 09/18 - 01/19 • THE TECH ACADEMY

In September of 2018 I enrolled in The Tech Academy's Software Developer Boot Camp, a course covering C#, JavaScript, HTML, CSS, SQL, and other languages. Having completed my final project, my only remaining criterion for graduation is obtaining a job.

BACHELOR OF FINE ARTS • 09/11 – 02/13 • CENTRAL WASH. UNIVERSITY

In 2011 I enrolled at Central Washington University in pursuit of a degree in Theatre Education. Unfortunately, this degree program ended up being cut from the school during my first year. After much thought, I decided that theatre was not my focus after all, and I left the university to pursue other options.
